

China Leads Way in Discussion of Far Eastern Questions

Sympathy of U. S. at Once Manifest, and Britain Endorses Some Chinese Claims

Japanese Silent

Are Believed, However, to Approve Parts of Orient's "Bill of Rights"

(By The Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 16.—The Washington conference today turned to consideration of Far Eastern questions, with almost the same momentum with which it tackled the question of naval armaments.

It was the Chinese delegates who led the way this time. In the committee of nine, at which all nations participating were represented, they produced a basis for discussions which represented their views.

The open sympathy of the United States with their position was at once manifest. The British supported it in many respects. The positions of the others were not so clearly defined, although members of the Japanese delegation have given expressions of approval, in part at least, of China's "bill of rights."

In brief, China wants guarantees for territorial integrity and political and administrative independence; she proposes the open door for all in all parts of the country; she wants all spheres of influence relinquished; she wants no treaties affecting her without being consulted about them.

The full extent of China's position is much broader than this, but these are the essentials. The last feature may be construed as affecting the Anglo-Japanese alliance, although the British take an opposite view.

Today's session of the Big Nine was occupied entirely with the presentation of China's views. Immediately afterward, it became known that they commanded the moral support of the United States. The British viewpoints remained known a little later. The Japanese did not state their attitude, but previous pronouncements by some of their representatives have put them in line with some parts of China's proposals.

The Japanese Attitude.

As many public sessions as possible are desired by the Japanese in the discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern questions, members of the Japanese delegation declared. They added that the Japanese would welcome open discussions because they wanted the world to examine Japanese policies in the Orient.

It was intimated that Japan would like to adhere to her attitude voiced at Tokyo a few months ago that questions affecting particular states be left so far as possible to direct settlement between those states and that no efforts be made to discuss the past in connection with the general examination of the situation in the Orient.

Japan does not expect to raise the question of British occupation of Chinese territory and apparently does not expect that other countries will question her right to the leased territory of South Manchuria, which came to her as a result of the war with Russia. Her delegates appear to regard this lease of 99 years as being in practice perpetual. Its renewal within a few years under the terms of the 1915 treaty with China, it is understood, will be insisted upon by Japan, and any attempt to dispossess her would be regarded by the Japanese as an attack on their rights.

It was also intimated today that the Japanese are opposed to the idea of international control of China, contending it would be a violation of the sovereignty of the leased territory of South Manchuria, which came to her as a result of the war with Russia. Her delegates appear to regard this lease of 99 years as being in practice perpetual. Its renewal within a few years under the terms of the 1915 treaty with China, it is understood, will be insisted upon by Japan, and any attempt to dispossess her would be regarded by the Japanese as an attack on their rights.

The Question of Armies.

The United States does not contemplate offering any definite program for limitation of land forces during the conference and so far as the American delegates and their military advisers have been able to ascertain, none of the foreign delegations have prepared proposals for army reductions.

The question of army reductions will be brought in open conference by Premier Briand of France. He has already intimated that France would urge an army for herself sufficient for protection against near neighbors and the whole question of armies is then expected to be referred to the armaments committee of the whole.

The United States has no proposals for army limitation. It was said on authority today, for she has nothing to offer on her own behalf, the American army already being as small as is consistent with national safety and domestic needs.

Data on Military Expenditures.

Having no suggestions for reduction of their own forces, it was said that neither the United States nor Great Britain were in a position to offer any concessions nor were they desirous of suggesting on their own initiative limits for the armies of other powers.

The American group is fully prepared, however, to deal with the land force question when it develops, having at hand complete data relating to every army of considerable size in the world.

The most authoritative data thus far available indicates that the per capita military expenditure for pure-

SENATE TURNS ATTENTION TO FORD-NEWBERRY CASE

Washington, Nov. 16.—The senate turned its attention today to the Ford-Newberry senatorial contest from Michigan. Consideration of the two-year-old controversy, however, was begun without a date for a vote in sight and with declarations from half a dozen senators that the "whole story must be laid before the country" presaging long debate.

Chairman Spencer of the privileges and elections committee began a review of the case and a defense of Mr. Newberry as set out in the majority report of his committee.

2 STRAP-HANGERS IN N. Y. TO EVERY ONE WITH A SEAT

Transit Commission Considers Altering Working Hours of Big City in Order to Avoid "Rush Hour" Transportation Jams

New York, Nov. 16.—The several million workers in New York may be soon asked to go to work and return home every day a few minutes earlier or later than in their present custom, in order that the rush hour congestion in subways, elevated trains and street cars each morning and afternoon may be partly relieved.

The state transit commission announced tonight that it had given consideration to such a plan for several months and it finally judged feasible big business and industrial establishments would be asked to put it in operation.

The commission today brought out statistics of its hearing, showing that the congestion of the metropolitan traction middle, which placed the average cost per passenger of operating the various transit lines during the fiscal year ended June 30 at $6.43. Nominally, the fare in New York is five cents but the commission says it really amounts to six cents and more because of the elimination of free transfers and existence of a ten million dollar tax burden to pay the city's share in operating subways.

Huge Deficit Last Year.

Last year the 30-odd traction lines which the commission seeks to coalesce into three systems had a combined deficit of $17,000,000 compared with one of $9,000,000 two years ago. It was testified by expert engineers employed by the commission. These companies have an aggregate capitalization of $1,185,849,431, some of which the commission says is water that must be wrung out.

The hope of "restoring a real five cent fare," the commission said, involves not only reorganization of the lines and traction routes but a municipalization of them which would lift the pressure of taxation.

Today the hearing concerned not so much financing as providing accommodations for strap-hangers, who outnumber 2 to 1 those who occupy seats in the subways during the rush hours. Engineers declared passengers carried in subways, elevated trains and trolleys in New York each year, total two and a half billion, or more than twice the number carried on the same number of miles in the country combined. Each work day more than six million are carried.

If this topmost peak in the rush could be spread over the four heaviest hours of travel—7:30 to 9:30 in the morning and 5 to 7 at night—it would increase the capacity of the subways 60 per cent, the commission was told. Something must be done soon, commission experts said, because the city's traffic, doubling itself every 15 years, already is near the saturation point during the peak of the rush and to build another subway will take at least five years.

NO AMBASSADOR TO BERLIN YET; DRESEL MADE CHARGE

Washington, Nov. 16.—Ellis Loring Dresel of Boston was nominated today by President Harding to be ambassador to Germany and now is in Berlin. Dresel has been American commissioner to Germany and now is in Berlin.

The nomination of Mr. Dresel was said in official circles to mean that probably no ambassador would be sent by the United States to Berlin for a time at least. It is considered quite probable here that Germany will be likewise represented in Washington for some time.

MILK INSPECTORS ELECT.

New York, Nov. 16.—Herbert E. Bowman of Somerville, Mass., was elected president of the International Association of Dairy and Milk Inspectors at the closing session of its tenth annual convention here today. Other officers elected included George E. Bolling of Brockton, Mass., first vice president; Dr. J. R. Hollingsworth of Ottawa, Ont., second vice president, and Ivan C. Weld of Washington, secretary and treasurer.

AFFIRM GAMBLEUS' GUILT.

Albany, Nov. 16.—The conviction in Saratoga county of Jules C. Formel as a common gambler, a result of the investigation into gambling conditions in Saratoga Springs, was unanimously affirmed in a decision handed down today by the third appellate division of the supreme court. Formel was sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

CLERK CAPTURES MAIL BANDIT SINGLE HANDED

DISARMED IN TUSSLE

200-Pound Mail Clerk Gets on Top of Robber and Holds Him Till Help Arrives

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 16.—Roy Gardner, mail bandit, who escaped under the fire of a score of guards from the federal penitentiary at McNeil Island, Wash., where he was serving a sentence for Pacific coast robberies, was captured single-handed here last night by Herman Indellier when he attempted to rob the latter's mail car on an Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad train at the Santa Fe station. Indellier was unarmed.

Gardner was arraigned today and held for the federal grand jury in bonds of $100,000. He will not be tried here, however, but will be sent to Leavenworth, Kansas, to finish serving sentences which were hanging over him when he escaped last September.

The bandit admitted his identity when local police recognized in him a likeness with descriptions sent broadcast at the time of Gardner's escape from McNeil Island.

The prisoner's words to Sheriff Montgomery when taken into the county jail were a warning that he intended to escape if the opportunity arose.

To Receive $7,000 Reward.

Edward C. McGrath, superintendent of the railway mail service in the west, declared tonight that Indellier would receive the reward of $5,000 offered for the capture of any person who assisted to rob the mails and also $2,000 which was a special reward offered for the capture of Gardner.

At the hearing, Indellier told of going to the car to prepare for his run. He said he changed his clothes, laying his revolver on a table while he did so. Afterwards, he got out to get the mail from a drop box at the station, leaving his revolver.

When he returned, he said, he was confronted by a masked man who pointed a revolver towards his head and ordered him to hold up his hands and to back into the corner.

"I started backing, but didn't hold up my hands," he said.

When he got into the corner, Indellier said the bandit ordered him to lie down on his stomach and he started to do so. Then, he said, he started to straighten up but only got high enough to see the gun in the other's hand.

"I made a grab for it and got his wrist," Indellier testified. "Then we started scuffling and wrestling."

At last, he said, both fell down and he got on top of the bandit and got possession of the gun. About that time, he testified, help arrived in response to his calls.

Had Many Chances to Shoot.

In reply to questions, Indellier, who is over six feet tall and weighs 215 pounds, admitted the bandit had numerous chances to shoot him both before and during the scuffling.

Indellier identified five bullets as those he had later taken from Gardner's gun. Two of the bullets had wooden noses and were so arranged in the gun that the wooden-nosed ones would be fired first. Gardner explained that the wooden-nosed bullets contained small shot and probably would stop a man without killing him.

Indellier was called to the police station to identify the prisoner as his assailant.

As he approached the prisoner, the latter held up his hand and said: "You haven't got any hard feelings have you?"

"I've got a wife and child at home," Indellier replied.

"So have I," responded the prisoner, "and if you had had a gun last night your wife would have been a widow today. I never hurt an unarmed man. But next time a gun is stuck against you, you put up your hands—it might not be Roy Gardner behind the gun."

Police officers attempted to identify the prisoner as Gardner by a wound in the leg which he was reported to have received from the gun of a guard when he escaped from McNeil Island. The police were unable to find the wound and the prisoner maintained that none of the shots fired by the guards struck him.

Gardner blamed his failure on the fact that Indellier was in the car instead of a negro clerk he thought would be in charge. He said he was after $15,000 which he believed was ready for shipment through the local post office.

Union Seeks to Criminally Attack Milk Companies

New York, Nov. 16.—The milk wagon drivers' union, whose members are on strike for higher wages and union recognition, attacked the milk distributing companies from a new angle today, seeking criminal prosecutions for alleged violations of federal and state anti-trust laws.

John B. Johnson, counsel for the union, announced he had filed complaint with Attorney General Daugherty and with United States District Attorney Haywood of New York alleging violation of the Sherman act and with the district attorneys of the five counties of Greater New York alleging violation of the Donnelly act.

The complaints, he said, specifically charge that the milk conference board, of which 12 of the largest distributors are members, is engaged in the fixing of milk prices that affect, by the board's own admissions, 88 per cent of the ten million people in the metropolitan area.

Simultaneously, he joined, in behalf of the union, in an application of 16 distributing companies for continuance of an injunction issued by Supreme Court Justice Kapper in Brooklyn restraining the strikers from committing any acts of violence. A similar injunction affecting the Bronx was issued today by Justice Guyl.

Mr. Johnson, appearing before Justice Kapper, asked that the Brooklyn order be altered to make it less sweeping and to eliminate any suggestion that members or officers of the union were in a conspiracy in restraint of trade, as alleged by the distributors.

Mr. Johnson told the court that the union deployed violence and that it was ready at any time to settle its differences with the distributing companies by arbitration, returning to work under the old terms in the meantime.

J. Elkin Nathans, secretary of the milk conference board, issued a statement late this afternoon stating that the strike had been broken and that the companies' milk trucks were to "clear" their short positions. Scores of strikers, he declared, were applying as individuals for their old jobs, and in cases where the men's records were good, they were being re-employed. He predicted an early resumption of normal distribution.

HOUSE VOTES TODAY ON 50 PCT. SURTAX

Indications Point to a Compromise, Probably Around Forty Per Cent Figure

Washington, Nov. 16.—The big issue in the tax revision bill—the senate amendment fixing the maximum surtax rate at 50 per cent—is to come to a vote tomorrow in the house.

Spokesmen for the "insurgent" Republicans and the Democratic minority expressed confidence that they could muster the necessary votes to keep the high rate in the bill. While making no predictions, Republican leaders generally were hopeful that ultimately there would be a compromise as between the senate rate and the house rate of 32 per cent, probably around 40 per cent.

Should the proposition to accept the senate amendment be voted down the house then could agree on a compromise figure or per it the conferees to resume negotiations with the senate managers without further instructions.

At their sessions today, the conferees agreed to senate amendments striking out original house provisions for the exemption from the income tax of income received by foreign traders and foreign trade corporations from sources outside the United States.

The managers also agreed on the senate amendments repealing the tax on parcel post packages and on bonds of indemnity and surety.

FARM PRODUCT FREIGHT RATES CUT ONE-TENTH

Reductions Made Since 1920 Will Be Included in This Ten Per Cent, However

COSTLY FOR ROADS

Means $55,000,000 Less Revenue, Executive Says—New Rates in Effect in Six Months

New York, Nov. 16.—An immediate reduction of ten per cent of farm freight rates on farm products for a period of six months, was agreed upon today by executives of the railroads of the United States.

In announcing the decision, Thomas deWitt Taylor, president of the Association of Railway Executives, stated that any reductions in such rates made since September 1, 1920, were to be included in the ten per cent, and that it would be put into effect without waiting for a reduction in wages. The freight rate cut will apply throughout the entire country except on traffic moving wholly within New England.

It was expected that the new rate would be effective within ten days, as the railroads, it was said, had asked the Interstate Commerce commission to authorize the change on one day's notice. The reduction will cost the railroads about $55,000,000, it was estimated.

"The railroads already have reduced freight rates substantially from the level established by the commission in August, 1920," the Cuyler statement said. "The reductions already made are estimated as accurately as can be to involve a loss of revenue at the rate of from $175,000,000 to $200,000,000. These reductions on many roads represent a loss much greater than any corresponding saving realized from reductions in wages already effected. The railroads are, furthermore, awaiting decisions of the Labor board, which, it is hoped, will relieve the companies of the expense of working conditions and uneconomic working conditions. The railroads are not in a financial condition to make this sacrifice."

Cuts R. R. Net Earnings.

"Unless there should be some revival in business, the probability of which is conjectural, the entire immediate loss involved in this proposed reduction in rates would be taken from the net earnings of the railroads."

Mr. Cuyler said the railroads were relying on the public for effective aid in bringing about the necessary reductions in labor and other transportation costs and that they hoped for labor's co-operation. He declared the railroads had taken the first step to relieve existing business depression and had given an earnest example of their fixed purpose to reduce rates and to relieve, at the earliest practicable moment, so far as reasonably possible, the public's transportation burden.

It also was decided by resolution to apply to the Interstate Commerce commission for a re-hearing of the hay and grain case. A hearing inquiry is asked to ascertain whether, if a substantial reduction in operating and labor costs could be obtained, any further rate reductions could lawfully be required, or with due regard to the transportation industry, made possible.

The new rates are applicable to carloads of wheat, corn, oats and other grain; flour and meal, hay, straw and alfalfa; manufactured tobacco, cotton, cotton seed and products, except cotton seed oil and cotton seed meal; citrus fruit, other tropical fruits, other fresh vegetables; dried fruits and vegetables, horses and mules, cattle and calves, sheep and goats, hogs, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese and wool.

LOCKWOOD PROBES REPORT TO ALBANY NEXT JANUARY

New York, Nov. 16.—The Lockwood legislative committee, which began investigation of alleged combines in the building trades last year, reconvened today after a vacation of several months. Senator Lockwood announced that the committee would conduct an inquiry and report to the legislature early in January, devoting much of its time from now on to inquiring into the life and life insurance companies.

No witnesses were examined today and the committee adjourned until tomorrow. Public hearings will be resumed next Tuesday.

PEDDLERS DRUGS IN THEATRES.

Freddie Wakeford, who alleged that he had bought a phial for $3 in a Hovey movie house, asserted that the usher to whom he had handed the phial had promised to rebate his admittance charge of 15 cents when he came the next time.

With the usher was arrested a musician and a pedler. The gallery, where a cache of drugs was found, was said to be the distributing center.

APPROVES ANTI-LYNCHING.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Attorney General Daugherty has approved the draft of the Dyer anti-lynching bill, Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, author of the measure, said today.

No action will be taken on the bill in the House this session, Mr. Dyer said, but it would be sought early in the regular session.

MORTALITY OF EXPECTANT

MOTHERS SHOWS INCREASE

New York, Nov. 16.—Mortality of expectant mothers has increased in recent years and, despite the great strides of surgery and medicine, there has been no decrease in the death rate among mothers at childbirth, Dr. Ralph W. Lobenstein asserted in an address today before the Child Hygiene Association of the American Public Health Association.

Failure of expectant mothers to obtain proper prenatal care and the widespread employment of incompetent midwives were declared by the speaker to be chiefly responsible for these conditions.

BROADER DAY ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Ease of Money, Improved Industrial Conditions and Strength of British Exchange Are Features

New York, Nov. 16.—Continued ease of money, signs of pronounced improvement in industrial conditions, and the strength of British exchange were potent factors in today's active, broad and generally higher stock market.

Call loans opened at 4 1/2 per cent for the first time in almost a month and that quotation again was reduced to four per cent in private negotiations, slight concessions, also, being made for accommodations extending into the coming year.

The review reported a broader demand for railroad equipment and structural steel, and the labor situation, in its relation to the proposed rate cut by the transportation systems of the country, seemed to be less acute.

One of the domestic type, especially the Standard Oil group, featured the market as several issues of two to over ten points. Royal Dutch was the one striking exception, showing heaviness on reports that dividends are to be paid in stock instead of cash.

Equipment, steels, coppers, shipplings and an unusual number of specialties participated in the advance at substantial gains, and rails of all descriptions added variably to their recent gains.

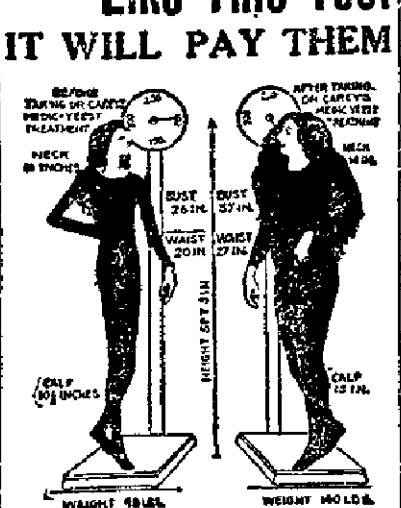

Appreciable gains were made by Liberty issues, and the bond list almost as a whole, including leading international, was inclined to strengthen.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the work that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

YOU know that there is nothing so beautifully compelling in Nature as mother-love. Even the word "mother" gives you a thrill. Imagine, then, a picture that is almost sublime in its reverent, forceful and dramatically appealing presentation of the mother-love theme! Here, indeed, is such a picture. It reaches depths of pathos and heights of human love seldom found on the screen; it will make you cry, then dry the tear with its hand; it will thrill you with its drama and hold you tight with its suspense. It's worth seeing if ever a picture was—and besides being entertained you'll be happier for having seen it. Come—that's all!

Choice Cuts

—and Others

A few weeks ago a newspaper man visited one of the wholesale markets of Swift & Company. He wanted to see a retailer buy a loin of beef and then watch the retailer sell the porterhouse and sirloin steaks from it over his counter. He thought this would make a good story.

The head of the market took the reporter into the "cooler" where he showed him a high class side of beef. With a wooden skewer he marked off the loin and said, "That would cost a retailer just 40 cents a pound, but it's only 8 per cent of the weight of the whole side."

"This piece, (and he marked off about one-fourth of the carcass) is the chuck and I'll sell it at wholesale for 7 cents a pound. Please remember, this is one of our best sides of beef. We also have beef which sells for half as much."

This wide variation in the price of various cuts from the same side of beef is caused largely by demand for the tender cuts. The others are, of course, just as wholesome.

It seems as though more people than ever are demanding choicer cuts, and their demand sets the price. If few people ask for the forequarter cuts, the price of forequarters will automatically drop to a figure low enough to induce people to buy because of cheapness.

Even though certain cuts sell for relatively high prices, other cuts, due to lack of demand, sell so low that our profit from all sources over a period of five years averaged only a fraction of a cent a pound.

It is competition between consumers for the choice cuts that keeps prices for those cuts relatively high; an equalizing demand for all parts of the carcass would benefit producer, packer, retailer and consumer.

Our average wholesale selling price of all products has fallen about 40 per cent since September 1920.

LITTLE LOSS BY FOREST FIRES.

The 1921 fire chart of the Conservation commission shows the progress that the state has made in reducing the amount of forest fire losses through the development of its fire protective system.

The season just ended was the worst in many years, not only in this state, but in other eastern states and in Canada. There were more fires this year than in any previous season of the thirty years for which records are available but the losses were trifling in comparison with other years, as the result of the promptness and efficiency with which they were controlled. With a total of 729 fires, the total loss amounted to $19,220, compared with $829,000 in 1910, $1,115,000 in 1911, and $1,000,000 in 1912. In 1906, before the present system of fire protection was established, the area burned in 1921, as compared with previous years, gives eloquent testimony of the efficient manner in which the fires were handled by that state's protective forces. The area burned in 1921 was 25,420 acres, as against more than twice as many acres in 1912. The efficiency of the work, as shown in the way in which these fires were controlled during the past year the average area of a fire was but 27 acres as against 47 acres in 1920 and 80 acres in 1913. Comparisons during these years are made because the weather conditions were similar. Before the protective system was established in 1903, and 1908, when no record was kept, approximately the same number of fires were reported and in each of those years the area destroyed was about sixteen times as great as in 1921.

REINVESTMENT URGED.

On November 15 the treasury department commenced the payment on the periodic interest on the Second Liberty Loan bonds amounting to approximately $70,000,000 and on November 16 of an additional $7,000,000 in interest on a count of treasury certificates of indebtedness of Series A, 1922, an aggregate of $77,000,000. Of this huge amount the estimated proportion payable in the Second Federal Reserve district is approximately $31,000,000.

Simultaneous with the disbursement of these enormous interest payments by the government, the treasury department urges upon the holders of these securities the desirability of reinvesting as much of this money as possible. Such action will not only benefit the general economic condition of the country but will confer an individual benefit upon those following such advice. In this connection treasury officials call particular attention to the convenience of treasury savings securities as an investment for small and moderate amounts of interest money.

These are issued in amounts from 25 cents to $1,000 and will fit almost any interest payment that may be received. Post offices and most banks carry these securities.

LORELLARD COMPANY WINS.

Patent Office Decides It Is Entitled to Use of Beechnut Trade Mark.
In an opinion just handed down in the patent office at Washington, D. C., P. Lorellard company has been held entitled to use the trademark "Beechnut" for tobacco products, including cigarettes. This decision is of interest both in the tobacco industry and in this section where the Beechnut Packing company of Canadawatch is well known.

The case arose from an application filed by the Beechnut company in the summer of 1919 for the trademark of this trade mark for cigarettes. It based its application upon the use of this trade mark by itself and its predecessor for many years beginning about 1891 for meats and gradually extended until it included groceries, candy and chewing gum.

P. Lorellard company opposed this application, founding its opposition on the prior use of it and its predecessors of the trademark "Beechnut" for tobacco, which the Lorellard company claimed gave it ownership for this trademark for cigarettes, although it did not use the trademark for other products.

It appeared in the testimony that this use of the trademark "Beechnut" for chewing tobacco was begun in the early Western tobacco company about 1870 and that the ownership of the trademark for this purpose had come to P. Lorellard company through sale by the Barry Western tobacco company to Continental Tobacco company by Continental Tobacco company to Lohman & Wilber tobacco company and by the last named company to P. Lorellard company.

The examiner in the patent office held that P. Lorellard company had a right to use the trademark "Beechnut" for tobacco products, notwithstanding the use of this trademark by the Beechnut Packing company for meats, groceries, candy and chewing gum, and that this right included the right to use the trademark for cigarettes. The ground of the decision is that tobacco products are goods of entirely different descriptive qualities from groceries, meats, candy and chewing gum.

The White Rose Sewing circle of Persimmon lodge met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, 6 Luther street. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Mellis, Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Monson. Dainty refreshments and a very pleasant afternoon were the ladies present.

LATEST PRESS COMMENT.

No Senate Meddling.
Senator Pomeroy's resolution authorizing a suspension of naval construction during the period of the conference is another mischievous manifestation of senatorial meddling. Mr. Harding has not asked for such authority. He is not seeking such authority and the senate can do nothing better than to mind its own business. It has plenty of business of its own to mind if it were disposed to attend to it.

The World has no objections to the immediate suspension of naval construction, but it has very strong objections to any attempt on the part of the senate to force the hand of the president at this time or to compel him to do something in the conduct of the negotiations which he doubts the wisdom of doing. If these negotiations are successful he will deserve a very great measure of credit. If they fail he must carry no small part of the responsibility. Then why nag him? Why harass him? Why subject him to the meddlesome interference of the United States senate, which is not charged with the duty of negotiations and has no official responsibility of any kind for success or failure?—(New York World.)

Stripping German Counters.

The enormous depreciation of German marks to the astonishing figure of 300 for $1 is hurting Germany in a merchandise way, that threatens to cause widespread distress in that country.

Thirty people from Holland and Western Europe countries are crossing the border in large numbers, exchanging their high valued money for German merchandise which they carry off home in great jubilation.

By some strange economic freak commodity prices in Germany have not advanced proportionately as the mark declines, thereby forming an attraction for persons who know a good bargain when they see it and are in a position to take advantage of an opportunity which cannot but prove a further hardship to the nation now groaning under the enormously heavy war debt and the indemnity which the victors levied.—(Syracuse Journal.)

Do Their Own Delivering.

According to reports practically all the lumber that is going out of the Columbia river is going to Japan, and in Japanese ships. We can hardly complain of that, for if Japan buys our lumber, we must concede her the right to carry it in her own vessels, thought we certainly ought to make an effort to carry half of it. But a deplorable situation for which there is no compensating consideration is presented when we see Japanese ships going into the Columbia ports in ballast and loading cargoes of wheat for transportation to Europe, at the same time that the United States Shipping board vessels are tied up at the docks with caretakers in charge.—(Utah Herald-Dispatch.)

Is This a Violation of the Law?

The Evening Telegram staff again has enjoyed some of Charlie St. Mary's delectable cider. Charlie is probably the best older maker in the North country. He has developed older making to a fine art. Some farmers consider cider as only a by-product of the orchard. They use the windfalls and culls that are unfit for market in any other form. Not so with Charlie. He selects the best apples of the whole crop, washes them in a spring water and suns them with a champagne skin. Then he secures up the apples, puts on his Sunday suit and begins to make cider. The product is clear as crystal, sweet as nectar and rejuvenating as goat glands.—(Montreal Telegram.)

A Veteran Navigator.

"How high are we now, Captain?" asked the timorous passenger in an air liner.
"Oh, about 5,000 feet," said the Captain.
"Dear me! Isn't that too high?"
"No, ma'am. We always travel at the same altitude. Why, this air liner is so well worn that I know every bump in it."—(Birmingham Age-Herald.)

Evils of Unemployment.

Another evil of unemployment is that it tempts a man to go up to the gallies and listen to congress.—(Washington Post.)

A View From Texas.

The Republicans needn't feel so grieved over their defeat in New York city. We are not especially proud of the victory.—(Houston Post.)

SEEK AID FOR SYRACUSE

The appeal of Syracuse university to the friends of higher education for the youth of America, for assistance in raising an emergency fund of $1,500,000 to prevent the doors of this great institution from being closed on January 1 by threatened foreclosure of mortgage protected loans, is being placed before the citizens of Oneonta by the Rev. Dr. Frank A. Niles and Rev. Dr. J. D. Bellamy, who are stopping at the Hotel Oneonta.

That 1,000 young men and women matriculated in its eleven colleges and live schools will be deprived of the privilege of gaining a higher education if this emergency fund is not raised, is an established fact, according to statements issued by the trustees of the university, who are the two ministers of the gospel now in this city. Many of these students come from homes in Oneonta, Otsego and neighboring counties.

Although standing fifteenth in number of students among the 507 American universities and colleges, Syracuse university is nearly at the bottom of the comparative list of endowment, and receives state support only for the College of Forestry. It is estimated that the institution incurs a financial loss of $610 on every student graduated, since Syracuse does not charge sufficient tuition for its students to cover the cost of the construction and its $2,450,000 endowment is far too small to make up this loss.

More than $1,000,000 of the existing deficit is traceable to the greatly increased expenses since the rise in prices in 1911, to meet which the tuition fees were not raised sufficiently since otherwise the cost of education would be too prohibitive to the students, more than half of whom earn all or a part of their way through college at Syracuse. According to the university authorities, steps have been taken to prevent further deficits in the future, however.

The $1,500,000 emergency fund now being raised, one-third has been pledged by citizens of Syracuse, one-third is being subscribed by the alumni, and one-third by friends of the institution and of higher education. Dr. Niles and Dr. Bellamy are connected with the organization using the last named position and have hopes of finding many subscribers to the cause in Oneonta.

A meeting of Syracuse alumni and alumnae living in Oneonta and vicinity has been called for 4.15 o'clock, Friday afternoon of this week, at the Chamber of Commerce offices, by Everett H. Hild, alumni campaign chairman for Otsego county, to meet with Dr. Niles and Dr. Bellamy. Another gathering of alumni in the entire county some evening in the near future is contemplated.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is a very effective remedy, and there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use strained molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money in purchasing for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant to children like it. You can feel the phlegm thin out, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ANNUAL RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Washington, Nov. 16.—An appeal for universal renewal of support of the American Red Cross during the annual roll call now in progress throughout the country was made today by Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, officially selected by General Pershing as the outstanding hero of the A. E. F. In his statement Sergeant Woodfill said:

"Among the most pleasant recollections of my service in France are those of the activities of the American Red Cross acting for the folks back home, in behalf of the men in the field. The devoted labor of its nurses, like those of the Army Nurse corps, and the canton girls, who seemed to be on hand whenever they were needed, helped the boys over many a tough spot in the road. They were not angels of mercy. Therefore, I was very glad to take part (although I am a claim to be an actor some months ago in the 'Red Cross of Ponce' pantomime at Cincinnati).

"Ever since returning to this country, I have been impressed with the continuing necessity of the present work of the American Red Cross, particularly for the disabled veterans. In addition to the friendly services to the men still in the hospitals, more than 2,000 chapters in as many cities and towns, I am told are serving disabled men in friendly ways. All this work is most necessary in backing up what the Government is doing for the disabled and I hope that the people of the Red Cross during the present annual roll call, will help it go on until the need is over."

Geo. W. Sherman of Otego Killed At Grade Crossing

Meets Instant Death When His Essex Roadster Is Struck By Fast Passenger Train At Pony Farm Crossing Last Evening

George W. Sherman, long a well-known resident of Otego, met a shocking death at the Pony farm crossing of the D. and H. tracks about four miles west of this city at about 7:10 o'clock last night, when his Essex roadster, in which he was returning unaccompanied to his home in that village after a business visit to Oneonta, was struck by train 308, the fast passenger westbound, which was running about 10 minutes late and was beyond question making good time. The body of the unfortunate victim of the accident was found lying beside the track about 300 feet west of the crossing, while the remnant of the car that remained together was partially upon the pilot of the locomotive and partially rolled and pounded into a ball in front of the engine when the train stopped some 1,500 or 1,800 feet west of the crossing. It was not until Coroner N. W. Germain reached the scene and searched the man's clothing that he was positively identified.

Mr. Sherman was considered a careful driver, yet the circumstances as related by eyewitnesses of the accident render it almost impossible to reconcile the two, and to create a suspicion that Mr. Sherman might have suddenly been stricken ill or possibly have dropped asleep.

Samuel Green, one of the most careful and painstaking tagmen in the employ of the D. and H. company, was on duty at the crossing and according to his version he was out on the crossing, knowing that the fast passenger had not passed and was watching for it. He had observed its approach and, when he saw the motor car coming, he stepped to the west side and signalled the driver of the car to stop and, failing to observe any slackening of speed, he shouted and waved as vigorously as he could, partially unseen, engaged on a freight train on the siding, W. J. McKrell and L. M. Hollister, attracted by the impending accident also made an effort to stop the car. One of the three was inclined to think that at the last the car's speed was checked while the other two declare they saw no indication of any effort to stop on the part of the driver.

The locomotive caught the forward part of the motor car and, partially crushed it and partially rolling it along carried it until the train was stopped. There was a train of box cars along the siding west of the main and, between this and the main, parts of the motor car were scattered along. When the man's body was found it was evident that life had been instantly crushed out and it was too frightfully mangled to describe.

After Coroner Germain had viewed the body as it lay between the west-bound main and the siding, it was taken in charge by Undertaker O. C. McKrell and removed to his parlors in this city, where it will be prepared for burial. It will be taken to the late home of Mr. Sherman at Otego this afternoon.

Coroner Germain last night took the statements of Messrs. Green, McKrell and Hollister, as well as that of Daniel Calvey, a carman living in the house just west of the crossing. The latter was in the house and declared that he was attracted by the efforts of the three men to attract the attention of the driver of the car, and reached the door in time to see the locomotive hit the car. The curtains were on the sides of the roadster and the railroad employees are in doubt whether the driver ever responded to their signals. Dr. Germain will today interview Engineer James Conroy of Albany and Conductor William C. Gurney of Binghamton, who were in charge of train 308 and later render his findings.

Mr. Sherman made two trips to Oneonta during the day. He was accompanied on the first trip by A. E. Bauff of Otego, who returned home with him. Mr. Bauff said last night that whenever he rode with Mr. Sherman the latter always requested him to keep close watch when the car approached any crossing. Mr. Bauff asked him to come on the second trip in the afternoon, but he was unable to do so. It is understood that Mr. Sherman came the second time for some dental work, but The Star was unable to learn what dentist was visited and hence unable to learn whether any anesthetic local or general was administered.

The deceased was 63 years of age and was a lifelong resident of Otego. His father, the late George W. Sherman, Sr., long having resided in a meat market at Otego. The son owned a farm about two miles below Otego but resided in the village. He dealt considerably in live stock and was widely known in this section and universally esteemed. He was a member of the Oneonta lodge of E. L. S. and of the Episcopal church.

His wife, who was Miss Jennie Wilber, was in Norwich at the time of the accident, visiting his sister, Mrs. George U. O'Brien. When informed of the accident she hurried home by motor car and was expected to reach there about midnight. She had been in poor health for some time and many friends will extend deepest sympathy to her. The widow and one half brother, William C. Sherman, also of Otego, are the only near surviving relatives. The funeral announcement will be made in tomorrow's issue.

MISS CROSBY MAKES A HIT

Her Baseball Song Touches the Top in Realism — Everybody Enjoys Unique Performance.

There are probably a goodly number of Oneontans who have at some time read "The Solo Orchestra," one of the best short stories in lighter vein which anybody ever wrote, and certainly one of the best from the facile pen of Prof. Brander Matthews. The entertainment at the Oneonta High school, building last evening might well have reminded all in the audience who recalled it of the Matthews story. True, Miss Gertrude Crosby was not the entire performance—there were two other participants and both good; but one could at least be mindful, while watching the versatile lady of the many acts, of the past-master as solo orchestra (perhaps to coin a word) of the bass and tenor drums, the triangle, cymbals, and the big trombone.

The Gertrude Crosby company was unquestionably a welcome variety down the numbers which usually make up a winter lecture course—not necessarily better, but original, unique and decidedly "different." With a singing voice of unusual power and of good quality, with unusual power of dramatic impersonation, and with a facile grace entirely her own, Miss Crosby herself, who was easily three-quarters of the entertainment, held the close attention of everybody with a series of songs on varied themes, interspersed with monologues and brief, pertinent stories apparently drawn from a vast fund of anecdote. A preliminary note from the White Lyceum bureau pronounced her "Baseball Song" one of the most fascinating bits of realism in the business. There is no doubt as to the justice of the claim. Whoever watched her last evening as, singing, she went gracefully through the motions of the game, catching, throwing to second, handing a high fly, or a liner, as pitcher with a toe in the box, watching the man on first from the cul of her eye, and finally winding up and delivering a ball moistened in the regular Walsh way, was fully justified in joining in the salvo of applause which greeted the artist.

Frank Cornwell, who in several numbers "doubled" as baritone and violinist, and Miss Louise Thompson, soprano and pianist, were the other members of the company. Though having minor part in the program, their work was good. From the beginning of the performance to the end of it—a good two hours and a quarter—there was no intermission, one number followed another without delay, and everybody was kept interested.

Altogether, it would appear from the expression of many members of the audience, there would be a second welcome should this amehorated and glorified vaudeville come again to Oneonta.

FRANKLIN AGENT HERE

Progressive Auto Dealer Will Move Here From Worcester in Near Future in Order to Better Serve Franklin Owners—Will Erect Modern Service Station at Rear of Residence.

In order to be in a position to better serve Franklin owners in Oneonta and vicinity, Herman C. Wright of Worcester, the authorized Franklin agent for Otsego and Delaware counties, last night completed the purchase of the Squire E. Gardner property at 421 Main street and will in the near future install an up-to-date service station.

For several years past, Mr. Wright has been located in Worcester, but his "cellent" in and about Oneonta has enlarged to such an extent that he felt the desirability of securing a location in this city.

The Gardner property, which is located at the corner of Main street and Gardner place, is admirably suited for Mr. Wright's purposes. The residence is commodious and in excellent state of repair and will furnish a desirable home of Mr. and Mrs. Wright. At the rear of the residence, is a vacant lot facing Gardner place. On this lot, Mr. Wright will in the near future commence the construction of a modern fire-proof building for use as a service station for the display of Franklin models. His aim is to be at the service of Franklin owners when they need service, and he will equip his garage building with this idea in mind. Mr. Wright is a young man who has made rapid strides in advancing the Franklin "cause" about this vicinity, and the constantly increasing number of Franklin "fans" bears evidence to the popularity and reliability of that distinctive make of motor car. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will be cordially welcomed to Oneonta. They expect to move their household goods and be "at home" at 421 Main street within two weeks.

As for Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, who for many years have been well-known and respected residents of Oneonta, they have not yet announced their future plans but their friends are hoping that they will remain in this city.

DEMPSEY AND CARPENTIER

An event which has been eagerly looked forward to by many in the city since the first announcement was made several weeks ago will be the showing at the Strand, Nov. 21, 22 and 23 of the only authentic pictures made of the internationally famous "Battle of the Century" between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, held at Jersey City on July 2. Manager Rose of the Strand announces that in addition to the pictures of the championship boxing contest he will show a Tailmadge picture, making a program of exceptional merit.

The Dempsey-Carpentier pictures were made at the ringside by a battery of more than twenty cameras under the direction of Fred C. Quimby. Taken under the supervision of Tex Rickard, promoter of the famous match, they show every detail, from the building of the huge arena, with its seating capacity of 90,000 spectators, up to the final blow that ended the struggle in the fourth round. Views are also given of the training activities of the two men and of the many celebrities who attended the contest.

An outstanding feature of the films is the introduction of slow motion photography, enabling the audience to see every move of the contestants slowed down to one-eighth normal speed. This should settle all arguments as to the comparative merits of the battlers and as to the actual blows struck.

Real Estate Transactions.

George Birge of this city has purchased of Leroy Butler his desirable property at Deerpont Center and taken possession. Mr. and Mrs. Birge will make this their summer home, and after this year they plan to spend their winters in the south, where they have spent several winters, and where their daughter resides.

William H. Hammond of Chestnut street has purchased the Goddard home on Kearney street. Sale made by Smith & Peniston.

Z-I-P!! WE'RE OFF!

The 15 Days of Spirit-ed Selling Has Started With a Rush!

Never such crowds! Never such good humor-ed eager anxiety to secure splendid new merchandise in this price smashed rapid fire disposal.

We've certainly uncorked a flood of business, but really, this sale has only just started; for we have to move a mountain of merchandise before we are through. No past achievement of our own can compare with it. We've simply laid waste all semblance to former prices. Ever alert people needn't be told twice to take advantage of these price concessions. They know that this store advertises no claims that it cannot fulfill. This store was packed all day long and for Thursday, Friday and Saturday we will have new and special lots of shoes on sale that just arrived yesterday. Don't put off buying, but come today and see a sale that measures up to everything the word SALE means.

A Hoochmelon Fable

Once upon a time a watermelon grew in a field all unaware of the ways of the world. A bird came to the watermelon and plucked it and filled it with a quart of hooch. Then it took the melon to the market, but the hooch was caught by a man and sold to the lady clerk at Washington prohibition headquarters is shown extracting the hooch from the good.

DEATH OF THERON F. MANNING

THERON F. MANNING for the past quarter of a century a well known and highly respected resident of Oneonta died at about nine o'clock Wednesday morning at his home 17 Tilton avenue in this city. Though for a long time his health had not been of the best he had filled more rapidly since early July, and for the past seven weeks he had been confined to the bed. His death was from serious intestinal and stomach trouble.

The funeral services will be held from his late home at 1 p. m. on Friday, Dec. 14, at the Universalist church in Cooperstown. The burial will be in Pine Grove cemetery at Portlandville. The Masonic burial services will be given at the house by the Oneonta lodge, of which he was formerly master.

The deceased was born May 15, 1852, in the town of Milford and was a son of Joseph and Helen (Babcock) Manning. Practically all of his earlier life was spent in that township. He was married December 31, 1872, to Miss Jennie Gurney of Portlandville. He was by occupation a shoemaker and an excellent workman. He moved to Oneonta about 25 years ago and for a time was a partner of the late

J. & C. Miller. After this he carried on business in the shoe stores of Colesville and Lodi. He owned a shoe shop being in the latter store to the time of his death. Mr. Manning was a regular attendant at the Universalist church in Oneonta. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and was Past Master of the Oneonta lodge and a member of the Order of the Eastern Star. He was a man of upright character of genuine goodness of heart and of a kind and sympathetic nature beloved in the home and in the circle of intimate acquaintance and respected by all who knew him.

The surviving members of his immediate family are his wife, above named, two sisters, Miss Ella Manning of Cohoes and Mrs. W. D. Ackert of Troy, and one brother, Willis H. Manning of Cohoes. To these and in particular to the devoted wife of but a little less than half a century, the heartfelt sympathy of all will be extended.

SUPT. OF POOR REPORTS

Petitions from Town Boards Read—Contract for Printing of Minutes Awarded

At yesterday's session of the board of supervisors the report of the superintendent of the county farm for the past year was read and accepted. Petitions from town boards, three in number were received and the contract for the printing of the minutes of the proceedings was awarded. The board adjourned shortly before noon till 9 o'clock this morning.

Petitions were presented the board as follows: Town of Maryland $50 for observance of Memorial Day, Town of Oneonta West Edmeston lighting district $10.00 for street lighting.

Mr. Locks, Chairman of the Rules and Legislation committee moved that the award for the printing of the minutes of the proceedings be granted to the Freeman's Journal as they were the only bidders for the printing. The contract was awarded to the Journal for 1000 complete copies of the proceedings and 50 complete copies of the minutes daily.

The report of M. J. Esmay, Superintendent of the Poor was presented to the board for their approval and was accepted. The report summarized as given as follows: Number of inmates in almshouse Oct. 21, 1920, 72, during the year — were admitted, making a total for the year of 97 inmates. Of these 48 were males and 49 females. Town charges made up 76 of these and the remainder were county charges. Of this number there were five deaths at the County Farm and were discharged three abandoned one sent to jail two to other institutions, with 61 remaining at the institution at the end of the fiscal year Oct. 31. During the year 21 meals were provided to tramps.

Products used amounted to $1244.17 with sales of products amounting to $2847.77. Disposition of products as follows: butter $277.91, eggs $342.47, stock $379.11, sundries $78.27.

Personal expense for the year for the Superintendent were given as $244.22 contributions $1781.31. The total receipts for the year amounting to $4756.35.

For the ensuing year Mr. Esmay asks for a budget of $36,500 which is distributed as follows: salary, Superintendent of Poor, $2500; almshouse inmates $18,000; outside relief $7,000; and county hospital inmates $1,500.

Stock raised on the farm for the fiscal year amounted to $2,927, while that of produce amounted to $13,342. 72 major minor improvements made to the buildings and grounds were mentioned in the report which was accepted and referred to the Committee on Charities.

Wind and Sound.

It is he claims not the wind as such, that prevents sound from traveling against it, but difference in the strength of the wind at, for instance, the wind is stronger above than below, or stronger at one side its effect will be to tilt the sound waves in one direction or another. Differences of temperature in the air also cause deflection of the waves of sound. Other atmospheric causes exist which deflect sound from a straight course and prevent it from going as far in a certain direction as it may have been expected to go.

Some of the sirens in this country, it appears, produce sounds which ought theoretically to be audible at a distance of 1,500 miles but in fact the authorities are satisfied if they are heard only two miles away. The reason for the discrepancy between calculation and experiment is probably atmospheric deflection of the sound.

Most Men Have Defects

If the man who measures you for your next suit calls out "N. F. R. B." to the assistant who lets down the measurements, take care! It is a warning that your physique is not all that it should be—in fact a great deal less. It stands for "neck forward round back."

"It's the commonest fault in the physique of our customers," explained a tailor. "Most men have the chest and round back. The man who is round some of them up for a while but they've begun shopping back again. About one man in ten has long legs the bow running from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 inches. Practically every man's shoulders are uneven—one higher than the other. But that's so common that you wouldn't all it a defect."

Here's another thing I've noticed. All the athletes the professional strong men have sloping shoulders. The fellow with the slight heavy shoulders whom you'd take for an athlete usually isn't.—Milwaukee Journal.

Vaccinating Sugar Cane

The vaccination or inoculation of plants in the bitterly waged fight against their diseases will appeal as a novel idea to many who have it was thought of the method in connection with the prevention of human and animal maladies only. A measure of success has attended its use by the office of foreign seed and plant introduction Washington D. C. reports Popular Mechanics in the evolution of a variety of sugar cane which will be immune to the commoner forms of disease peculiar to the plant and especially the so called mosaic disease which has recently made its appearance on the sugar plantations. Seedlings from the inoculated specimens will be tested for immunity and if the experiment is successful, it is hoped it will be thought that a practically disease proof variety of plant will be evolved.

"Cloth of Love"

A perfect love of a gown is quite appropriate modeled from drap d'Amour. It is embroidered in steel bands and the long lines broken by the cords and shirring over the hips do not detract from the style effect to which all women aspire. The long shoulders and large sleeves are especially graceful.

Maybe "Grace" Widow

Estimated that a woman who is widowed from their husbands are called "Grace" widows. It is said that this originated from in England when a woman was married to a man who was a "Grace" widow.

Some claim that it is derived from "Grace" widow meaning that the woman is a widow by courtesy of law or agreement but not by the death of her husband.

The expression was first used in this country in 1849 when a woman went to California at the time of the gold strike and left their wives at home.

FORMER SIDNEY CENTER MAN

C. H. Deakes, Head of New York Milk Company, Passes Away.

Sidney Center, Nov. 16.—Charles H. Deakes, of The Deakes Dairy Company of New York City, died at the home of his uncle, C. H. C. Deakes in this city, Saturday, Nov. 12, of pneumonia and heart trouble. Mr. Deakes was a former resident of this village, having lived here during his boyhood and young manhood. After his marriage on June 15, 1892, to Miss Mabel Baker of this village, he went to New York where he had since been engaged in the milk business. About ten years after the death of his first wife, which occurred August 13, 1897, he was married to Mrs. Lucy Woolley of New York City, who survives him. He is also survived by one daughter, Mrs. Clarence B. Dibble of this village and two grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Dibble returned Tuesday from Middletown, where the funeral was held on Monday at the home of his father, George E. Deakes.

Dairymen's Convention Opens With Fine Program

Fully 400 Persons Hear Timely Address of Commissioner of Farms and Markets Pyke; Dramatic Club Delights With Playlet; Banquet Feature of Today's Session

With fully 400 visiting dairymen and citizens in attendance, the 46th annual convention of the New York State Dairymen's association got away to a flying start at the armory last evening, the excellence of the program and the interest shown indicating that the present meeting will be the most successful in the long history of the organization. The attendance at the opening session was the largest yet experienced and it is doubtful if anyone found a dull moment in the program of entertainment and profitable discussion.

Mayor Ceperley Welcomes Visitors.

Following the presentation of the playlet, Mayor A. E. Ceperley made the address of welcome in which he expressed the pleasure of the city that the association had seen fit to hold its convention in Oneonta and extended a most cordial and hearty welcome to all the visitors. He said that the dairymen had come to the right city inasmuch as Oneonta was, according to statements made and never contradicted to his knowledge, the center of the largest milk producing area in the United States. The dairy industry is second to none in the state in importance, he said, and to afford the visitors to the convention the most hearty welcome was an esteemed privilege of the residents of Oneonta. Hon. Harold J. Richardson of Lowville, president of the association, responded in behalf of his organization, thanking Mayor Ceperley for his welcome and stating that the officers of the association were more than pleased with the selection of Oneonta as the place for the convention. Mr. Richardson stated that never in the history of the organization were there problems of more importance to discuss than now. New York state has been leading upon its past agricultural achievements, and has not given sufficient consideration to the future. The dairymen of the state must give ample attention to the labor and financial problems now confronting them and must also realize that much can be learned from the experience of other states. Mr. Richardson stated that the subject of this year's meeting was "Milk and Products" and that the various speakers would trace milk from the producer to the consumer, discussing the various problems involved. He closed by inviting all to the session of the convention.

Mr. Pyke's Timely Address.

Hon. Berne A. Pyke, state commissioner of Farms and Markets was then introduced by Mr. Richardson with a wealth of deserved compliments. Mr. Pyke's address was timely and intense, interesting and merited the close attention that it received. He gave a constructive criticism of the organization of the department and outlined desired measures for the aid of dairymen in the state. His principal points follow:

1. A weakness in the present organization is the existence of two divisions in the department, the Division of Foods and Markets and the Division of Agriculture. Greater efficiency would result from the consolidation of these divisions and it is hoped that this will soon be done.

2. The present high indemnity costs for the eradication of tuberculosis cattle must be reduced. This item cost the state $1,500,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30. Preventative work will help this reduction.

3. There is a recognition must be secured from the federal authorities to the work which the state is doing in testing accredited herds.

4. There should be a higher dairy license tax and more rigid enforcement of the law regarding keeping the milks.

Following, Mr. Pyke's address, President Richardson announced the following committees: Resolutions—Hon. S. H. Richardson, Prof. W. A. Smith, Dean H. E. Gail, H. C. Lewis, H. C. Plowden. Nominations—Hon. J. C. Thompson, D. W. McLaughlin, Prof. H. C. Plowden, J. C. Thompson, D. W. McLaughlin, Prof. H. C. Plowden.

The showing of a motion picture furnished through the courtesy of the Quaker Oats company concluded the program. The film depicted rural scene and farm work in a most interesting and instructive manner.

After the picture, and after an evening much enjoyed was over, the visitors in the city of Oneonta were given a full list of the speakers given in yesterday's Star. The place was numerous and the interest in the part of the speakers. During the evening, the city and milk of excellent quality were distributed free of cost.

Today's Program.

There will be morning and afternoon sessions today and in the afternoon a banquet will be held at the Oneonta Hotel. At 4:30 o'clock the lady relatives and friends of the dairymen will be entertained by the Women's club at their club house. Tea will be served and entertainment provided.

The banquet this evening will be one of the big events of the convention. Addresses will be made by Speaker H. Edmund Macdonald of the Assembly, Hon. Eugene H. Lister, commissioner of Foods and Markets, Dean H. E. Gail of Denmark, Charles H. Tuck of New York city and Justice A. L. Kellogg.

Fifty tickets have been allotted for Oneonta.

The full program for today follows:

A Surprise Tonight

If you will try this way to prettier teeth

This test will surprise and delight you. The results are so quick, so pleasing, so conspicuous.

Millions have already made it. The glistering teeth seen everywhere now show some benefits it brings.

Go get this free tube from the dealer named. Use it and watch the effects. It will open up to you and yours a new era in teeth cleaning.

Why prettier teeth?

This method brings whiter, prettier teeth because it fights the film. Your teeth are now covered with a viscous coat. Peel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Old brushing methods do not remove it all. Enough remains to make the teeth both dingy and unsafe.

That is why teeth look cloudy. The film-coats absorb stains. Film also causes most tooth troubles. And, under old methods, all those troubles have been constantly increasing.

How film ruins teeth

Film dims the teeth's luster. It also forms the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms decay. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Many other serious troubles, local and internal, are now traced to them.

Countless people find that teeth brushed daily still discolor and decay. The main reason lies in that film.

Now we daily fight it

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere advise its use.

These methods are combined in dentifrice called Pepsodent. It now employ it, largely by dental act. The use is fast spreading the world over among those who know.

That is the tooth paste we ask you to try. Watch its effects on the film. See how your teeth improve. Then let your own good sense decide between old methods and the new.

Three other essentials

Modern science also requires three other effects from a tooth paste. The old methods did not bring them. Pepsodent brings them all.

It is Free

To you this week

This 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent. Present the coupon to the dealer named below.

Make this delightful test. Watch the quick effects—see the change in a week. Then you will realize what this new way means to you and yours.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for the acids which cause decay.

Five important effects come from every application. And modern authorities deem all of them essential.

Not for women only

The most conspicuous effect is glistening teeth. Countless women employ it largely on that account. Few things add so much to beauty.

But men also want white teeth. Men who smoke find that teeth discolor quickly, due to stains in the film.

Pepsodent means more than this, however. It means cleaner, safer teeth. Children need it even more than others. Their teeth are easily attacked, and very few escape. Dentists advise that Pepsodent be used every day from the time the first tooth appears.

To all it means a new conception of clean, well-protected teeth.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

This test will prove a delightful revelation. To you and yours it may bring life-long benefits. Every day you wait may mean new damage. Cut out the coupon now. Present it this week.
